CDI Opens East Coast Production Facility

CDI — fastest curb adapter manufacturer — opens new CHARLOTTE LOCATION!

Building upon their motto - delivering curbs to you when you really need them, CDI Curbs of Minneapolis, MN and Seattle, WA has opened another manufacturing facility in Charlotte, NC on February 1st 2012.

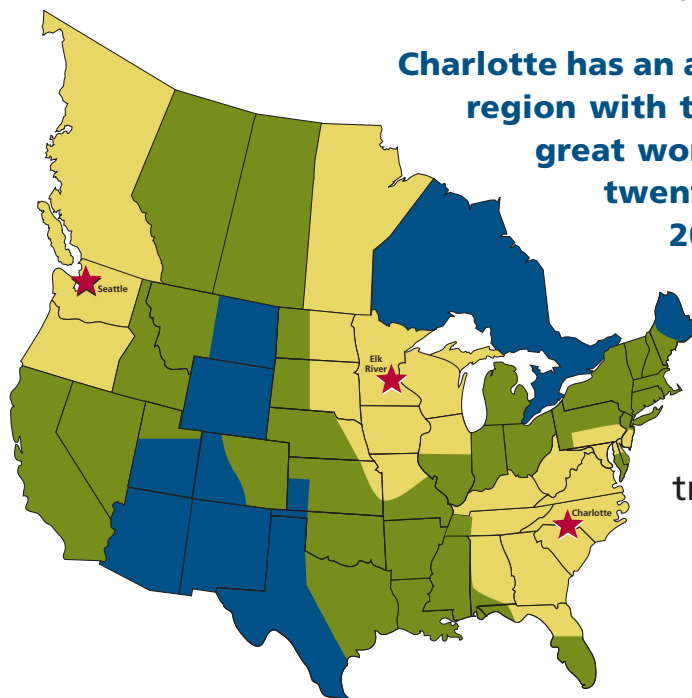

"Our mission is to deliver high quality products to our customers on time. The opening of the Charlotte plant is a great compliment to our existing locations in Minneapolis and Seattle and helps us service customers even faster by strategically locating our manufacturing plants across the USA," stated Pat O'Brien - CDI president. "Our short term goal is to be able to serve all of our customers within 2 days transit time."

Charlotte has excellent shipping lanes with excess capacity of outbound trucks. This new location achieves the reduction in the number of states that previously required 3 days transit by 77%. The shortened distances and less handling also reduces the rate of damage to products.

The addition of the Charlotte facility increased CDI's capacity by more than 50% and also provides room for expansion over the next few years.

Joining the CDI team in Charlotte is Mike Larson a 20 year veteran of our industry. He will be based in Charlotte and will cover most of the coastal states from Maine to Florida. Roger Vaneman is a 13 year veteran of our industry and will be covering the Midwest, Mid-Atlantic and Gulf states and finally Craig Hudson, born and raised in the Charlotte area, brings 27 years of HVAC OEM experience to the team.

Charlotte has an abundance of skilled workers in the region with the value of hard work and overall great work ethic. The goal is to hire approx twenty production workers by June 1st 2012. CDI adds strong members to its team in order to meet the company's high expectation of customer service to their clients.
